

Simply put, we are going to ask you for information like your name, email, and phone number. It's your choice to give it to us. If you do give us your info, we will use it to try and sell you something. It is what we do - sell stuff. Really cool stuff.

This site is not intended for kids under 13. If you are under 13, this site is really boring and you will have a lot more fun riding your bike or playing a video game. We use cookies like everyone else in the world. If you don't like cookies, check your browser help section for how to turn them off.

We try hard not to SPAM people, and if you ask us to stop, we will. We are not going to sell your information or share it with anyone outside of our company. We have been in business for 23 years because we treat people well and earn their trust.

We do buy names from time to time from lead generation vendors. If you get something from us and have never visited our web site, we probably bought your contact information from someone. If you are not interested in our products, just follow our unsubscribe instructions included with any marketing communication and we will remove you. But remember our stuff is really, really cool!

If there is something we do that you don't like, just call us @ 360.397.1011. That is a direct line to our Founder and CEO Daren Nelson. We promise we will do everything we can to make sure we don't pester, bug, or annoy you.

Thanks for visiting us!

Daren

This Website is not intended for children under 13 years of age. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13.

In the event that we learn that we have collected personal information from a child younger than 13 years old, we will delete that information and terminate the child's account (if any). If you believe that a child under the age of 13 has provided us with personal information without verification of parental consent, please contact us at support@isupport.com.

Information We Collect About You

Depending which of our websites and services you are visiting or using, we collect and may collect several types of information from and about you, including personal information that can identify you, such as your name, e-mail address, telephone number, mobile number, fax number, short message service or text message address or other wireless device address, and instant messaging address as well as demographic information and any transaction you conduct or submit to on or through this Website, and any other information that may identify you as an individual or allow online or offline contact with you as an individual (collectively, "Personal Information").

We also collect Website Usage Information (as defined below) and other information from and about you in a way that does not personally identify you ("Non-Personally Identifiable Information" or "Non-PII"). Typically, Website Usage Information and Non-PII, by themselves, do not personally identify you, but they can be combined with other information in a way that allows you to be identified. If this happens, we will treat the combined information as Personal Information.

We may collect information from or about you in the following ways:

- Information Provided by You. We collect information provided by you when you (1) inquire about or obtain our services or products; (2) communicate with us or request information about or from us, whether via e-mail or other means; (3) fill out forms or fields on this Website; (4) register as a user or sign-up for any of our newsletters, materials or services through this Website; (5) enter into online transactions; (6) create profiles; (7) participate in our online surveys or questionnaires; (8) input information into our interactive programming features or participate in our blog or online forums; (9) participate in any of our marketing initiatives, including contests, events, or promotions; and (10) post to this Website or provide user-generated content or submissions to us, including without limitation media files, photos, videos, documents or other information, and contributions to a chat room, list serve, blog, or other open forum or community feature that we make available on this Website ("User Contributions").
- Information from Other Sources. We may collect information about you from other third party or public sources, such as from public forums, social networks (i.e., Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, or others), blogs, other users, or our business partners.
- Automatic Information Collection. We and our service providers use automatic data collection technologies to collect and store Website Usage Information. Third party advertising companies and ad networks may also use automatic data collection technologies to collect Website Usage Information for purposes of providing interest based ads to you. See the Automatic Information Collection Technologies and Website Usage Information section for more information.

User Contributions

This Website may contain public areas, forums, or features that allow you to provide your User Contributions to be published or displayed or transmitted to other users of this Website. Your User Contributions are posted on this Website and transmitted to others at your own risk. For this reason, we recommend that you do not include any sensitive or personally identifiable information about you or others in your User Contributions for these areas of this Website.

Automatic Information Collection Technologies and Website Usage Information

We and our service providers automatically collect "Website Usage Information" from or about you, such as information about your computer or mobile device, IP address, web browser, computer or device platform, related software and settings you are using, browsing actions and patterns, the referring page that linked you to us and the website you visit after this Website, and other usage activity on this Website. Collection of Website Usage Information helps us to improve this Website and to deliver a better and more personalized service by enabling us to, among other things: (1) estimate our audience size and usage patterns; (2) store information about your preferences, allowing us to customize this Website according to your individual interests; (3) speed up your searches; and (4) recognize you when you return to this Website.

The automatic collection technologies we and our service providers may use for this automatic information collection include:

- Cookies (or browser cookies). A cookie is a small data file that is sent to your browser or related software and stored on your computer's hard drive when you visit a website. Generally, cookies can track what you look at and where you travel on websites and what transactions you make. They can also store Personal Information about you, including your username and password. A "session cookie" expires immediately when you end your browsing session with the particular website. A "persistent cookie" stores information on your hard drive so when you end your browsing session and return to the same website later, the cookie information is still available. This Website may use both types of cookies.
- Flash Cookies. Certain features of this Website may use locally stored objects (or Flash cookies) to collect and store information about your preferences and navigation to, from and on this Website.

- Web Beacons. Pages of this Website and any e-mails we send to you may contain small electronic files known as web beacons (also referred to as clear gifs, pixel tags, and single-pixel gifs) that permit us, for example, to count users who have visited those pages or opened our e-mails and for other related website analytics (e.g., recording the popularity of certain website content and verifying system and server integrity).

For more information about managing your privacy settings regarding automatic collection of Website Usage Information, see the Your Choices About Use and Disclosure of Your Information section.
